Re: My Resignation as Chair of the Fleet Airworthiness Committee

Dear Bernie:

With a week to reflect on the proceedings in and around the ICS Spring Board Meeting, I have come to the decision that I am going back away from my efforts to affect the strategic direction of ICS. It is clear that the board of directors of ICS is committed to maintaining the status quo, even while admitting that the demographics doom ICS's business model of merely facilitating the social interaction of its members. After having invested thousands of dollars and hundreds of hour attempting to develop a viable path forward for ICS, I must face the reality that I am no closer than when I started. While I believe that ICS must position itself to be an indispensable part of Comanche ownership, no board member at the spring board meeting appeared to share a similar view.

While I will continue to maintain my membership in ICS, it is time that I focused my efforts and resources where there is some potential for success.

Your Truly Yours,
